

At first sight, Piacevole might seem like a comfy sofa with bold lines and a feisty spirit. It is that – and much more besides, with a surprising bed inside that makes it extremely versatile. Its small size makes it suitable even for smaller urban homes. You can choose to have it with contrast stitching – in the leather version – and with wood legs in different finishes. The headrest on each seat can be adjusted separately for individualised comfort. Also, the chaise-longue version has a storage compartment, which can hold all the bedding when the sofa bed is not being used.
